From the Baron and Baroness

Greetings from Teric and Paigan, Baron and Baroness of Settmour Swamp!

Its been a busy summer for all of us, and a wonderful Pennsic War for everyone. Alas, the East was not victorious, but contended with great honor and valor, vivant to all who contributed to the war efforts!

The Victorian Days demo in Belvidere in September was very successful, thanks to all who participated, and we also have received many lauds and thanks for the great job our Barony did in hosting the Coronation of Darius and Roxane, it was a truly spectacular event and feast which will live in the memories of many for a long time!

We will be sojourning to Kingdom Crusades the weekend of October 7th-9th, and encourage our populace to join us there, it's a very good event, full of diverse activities, at a beautiful site. The Heirs to the Kingdom will be determined at Crown Tourney being held in Dragonship Haven on the 15th, and on the 22nd and 23rd, there will be an SCA demo at the Medieval Festival being held at Waterloo Village, and again, all who can come and participate in showing the public what the SCA is about are encouraged to join us.

We will be attending the Winter Wulf Tourney on November 5th, and 100 Minutes War on November 19th, both hosted by our friends and neighbors in Rusted Woodlands. And of course, on the 12th, we'll be at our own fabulous Seraglio, which will be held at the Moose Lodge in Edison this year. It's a delightful event, with limited attendance available, so if you haven't sent your reservations in already, do it quick, before it's sold out!

We can all enjoy a welcome respite during the holiday season, but remember that we have the honor of hosting East Kingdom Twelfth Night, which will also include the East Kingdom Arts and Sciences Champions Tourney, on January 14th, at the Salaam Shrine in Livingston. The autocrat, Baron Alexander MacGregor, will certainly appreciate everyone's help in making this another memorable event hosted by Our Barony, and we encourage everyone to get in touch with him and volunteer your service in some way that benefits his efforts in coordinating the event.

Till next we meet, fare well,
Teric and Paigan

From the Captain of Archers

From the Region in the North

Big news is coming out of the Region of Tir Mynydd.

We have decided to step back from our regularly scheduled meetings and we are now going to hold meetings twice a month instead of the regular every week meeting. This is good for those of us who have been known to have to sit and wait for no one to show up and it is good for the morale of the Region. We are keeping our structure but we are holding back from what may be considered an over-zealous plan.

Beginning in October, our meetings will be held bi-weekly on the first and third Wednesday of every month. Everyone is still encouraged to come out and teach, learn and just sit and chat.

Our weekly meetings are going to remain beginning at 7:00 but we have decided that we are officially making it that if no one shows up by 9:00, we are going home. If people are at the meeting hall before 9:00 (and 8:59 does not count as before 9:00) we will be going home. However, if we have more people than just 2 at a meeting, we will stay until everyone is ready to leave.

Tir Mynydd has decided that we are going to keep the name and device registered as Tir Mynydd but we have also decided that we will not pursue Cantonship at this time. We are going to sit back and see how things are going to go before we decide on whether or not we are going to re-poll for Canton status. After two years of struggling up hill, it has been decided to step back for a little bit.

The meeting that we held on the 28th had 6 people at it and all of those people were blue card members of the SCA. They made the decisions that I presented to them so I am happy to say that I am only following my contingency when the decision is to step back a little bit.

“Sometimes one needs to take a step backward before moving forward.”

This is my hope and intention.

The active members of Tir Mynydd still want to see an active play area and I hope to give it to them.

Remember, Tir Mynydd is a Region of Settmour Swamp. We are not an official SCA chapter (yet). We may be in time but for right now we need to look at our direction before we can continue.

As always, populace input is desired and we want to see you (the people) come to visit us.

Workshops have not been scheduled lately due to the lack of interest problem. This is about to change. We will be coming up with a workshop schedule as soon as we can get people to teach them. I only have so much knowledge and would like to learn things myself. After I teach what I know, there isn't anything more to teach. Anyone who is willing to teach should contact me and let me know what it is you want to teach and when you wish to teach it.

There was discussion about holding a schola in the spring. Further details on it will come after the Baronial Business Meeting and will be listed in my next letter to the Mudpuppy.

Until then, I am

Your in Service

Lehoric Silverwater Du Mer

(PJ Butler)

From the Coronation Autocrat

Darius and Roxane's Coronation went off fantastically, and I would like to thank the legions of people who helped it all go so well.

The day before the event, the following people spent about 5 hours setting up the hall with me: Malcolm Bowman, Caitlin Longstrider, Anna von Argental, Gudren Gudmunderdottir, Elizabeth Hawkwood, Leofric, Angus Sutherland, and Elizabeth Elenor Lovell. Eric the Wandering Horseman put up the SCA directional signs that night. Berelinde, our Chamberlain, made sure we had what Swamp gear we needed for the kitchen and the hall.

Troll was ably run by Eleanor Callaghan, helped by Elisabetta Maldestra and Alexander MacGregor, Elizabeth Talbot, Vikka, and Kaila Fitzgerald. Symon FitzGilbert did the artwork for the site tokens - bookmarks with Darius and Roxane's portraits on them. [We have plenty of extras if anyone would like one!]

Baroness Ursula was in charge of decorating not one, but two Royalty Rooms, and had a good number of people who assisted her -- thank you all! Baroness Paigan was in charge of the day board, and made sure that everything was plentiful and tasty! She also had a large crew of people who did lots of prep work and cooking before the event, and then helped to set up and serve it out.

Malcolm did an excellent job coordinating and organizing the merchants' area, helped by his lady Caitlin. Richenda de Honneflo, aided by members of Bhakail, ran the Arts and Sciences display, which had many lovely entries. Alys MacKyntoich, our Pursuivant, made many announcements during the day (aided by Malcolm and someone else whose name slips my mind at this point...) Edana MacKinnon was our Chirurgeon in Charge all day.

Thank you to Robert of Kyle's Hold who dusted off his wood-working equipment to make the tops and bases for the Roman-esque columns that decorated Darius' court and high table - they looked great! (Robert was Baronial Chronicler a while back; he and Shannon say "hi", and hope they can make it to Mudthaw next year, with their *2* children.) Between courts there was a lot to do while their newly-crowned Majesties sat in state.

Angus and Brianna Sutherland (our Chancellors' Minor) organized the children's activities. Galen of the Highlands had a couple of tables of Roman-style games for people's amusement, and Ursula led dancing (in the afternoon, and again after the feast!). Outside the weather was fantastic, and many people watched or took part in the tourneys: Cullynn MacKinnon ran a bear pit for the fighters, with Rhiannon deLicorne and Ceara MacKiernan handling the list table; Sebastian Estevenez de Xavier and Brendan Firebow ran the fencing lists, and Draguin atte Maeldun ran the youth combat.

The feast was fantastic! Alexandre Lerot d'Avigne put together a menu of dishes which were both delicious (roast lamb, fish in wine, cheesecake, pear tart) and fun (meat "mice" you could hold by the tail and drop in your mouth!). The kitchen crew was a well-oiled machine, and included Mercedes, Mathilde, Anastasia, Sir Thorson, and Sir Edward. Eularia Trewe headed up the servers (Sharq Pit, plus our own Alys, Elizabeth, Gudren, and Gabrielle) who all looked wonderful dressed in chitons, and they were all well-organized and incredibly attentive. The subtlety, made by Elizabeth Elenor Lovell (and staff), was a spice cake Mount Vesuvius. Strawberry 'lava' poured down to cover a marzipan and pound-cake Pompeii.

The entertainment between the courses was chariot racing! The riders carried little ribbon 'whips', and 3 runners with hobby horses pulled each chariot. All the diners were given 'gold' coins to wager on their choice. The crowd was incredibly enthusiastic, and the chariot riders were, I think, incredibly brave -- Elizabeth Hawkwood and Evil Beth (Elizabeth Maledicta), and in the final race, Queen Roxane took on Queen Rachel of Atlantia. There were thrills and spills a plenty - right out of Ben Hur! Kudos to Paigan and Owynn whose idea this was, and to Orvarg, Magdalena, and the other chariot builders.

The event officially ended at 10 - and the best part - clean up took just 1 HOUR. The clean up crew, led by Christophe (Sven), rocked! Thanks to all who stayed to help: the Sharq Pit kitchen crew, the Baron and Baroness of An Dubhaigeainn - Jean Xavier Boullier and Gianetta Lucia Alegretta, Viscount Edward, Malcolm, Caitlin, Alain Longship, Paigan, Teric, Orvarg, Anna, Brighid, Elisabetta, Lehoric, Gudren, Laurewyn, Galen, Rachel of Gwynedd, Ragnarr Dragonheart, Eric, Fionn, and Johanna of Wisby. Also, Johannes of Wisby put in a full day's work at the dishwashing station.

More thanks to our seneschal, Owynn, to Alexander who is handling the financial report, and an especially big thank you to Malcolm, my deputy autocrat, who took on several important tasks along the way and made my job easier. He was at the event from start to finish, after doing setup on Friday. A big hug to Paigan, who not only took on the huge task of day board, but gave me a sounding board for ideas, and offered advice, reminders, and nudges to keep the event planning on track.

Last but not least, much thanks to my husband Mitchell, who is always so supportive when I volunteer to run big events like Coronation. He even had to miss the end of the event (and a lot of the feast) to go pick up Sammy at the end of the day.

I am grateful to each and every one of you - running kingdom events like this would not be possible without so many people to help out. If I forgot to thank you here, it was just an oversight, and I hope that I remembered to say thanks to you during the day!

Jessa

Seraglio 2005

The Seraglio's theme this year will be : "al Mashriq", "The Levant". The region in the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea: Israel -- Lebanon -- Syria -- Jordan. "Mashriq", "the country where the sun rises". For our purposes, we will be looking at the larger area which included "most of the Christian nations bordering the northern coastline of the Mediterranean"; this includes the "Maghreb", which encompasses the top of Africa, including peoples such as the Berber and the Tuareg and other subgroups; as well as the lower half of Spain inhabited by the Moors.

That being said, this naturally leads to thoughts of the Crusades, which were caused by many different factors including religion, trade, money, politics...

Classes will be held during the day.

Do you have especial knowledge of this period? Can you explain the Crusades; from any of the sides involved? Do you have an especial talent that you' like to share with others? If you have an idea for or would like to teach a class, please contact Lady Gabrielle or Lady Dima.

We are also looking for Entertainments of all types, Dancers, Storytellers, Musicians...

Rummi will serve as entertainment coordinator if you'd like to entertain during the feast, please contact her at Usagi636@aol.com.

Lady Elisabetta Maldestra and Lord Mata a Bheithir are preparing a sumptuous dayboard and Feast. Attendees shall have the option of either Western style or Eastern style seating. Please remember to bring your own cushions on which to sit for the Eastern seating option.

Please mention which style of seating you prefer when sending your reservations in, so that we may have the proper number of tables and chairs set up.

There will be an arts and sciences display in addition to the classes. Contact Richenda de Honneflo for details at MoAS@settmourswamp.eastkingdom.org.

Merchants are also welcome at no additional charge. There is room for several merchants; they may use the Moose Lodge tables. Please contact the Autocrats for more information.
